REBELS, CHALLENGERS WIN PROVINCIAL HOCKEY TITLES

Weekend victories by Drayton Valley teams brought two provincial hockey championships to the community.

The Drayton Valley Rebels won the Intermediate title by defeating the Wetaskiwin Colonels 3 - 1 here on Thursday and 5 - 3 at Wetaskiwin Saturday night to win the total point series 8 to 4.

Burrows Motors Challengers won the Provincial Bantam Championship by defeating the southern representatives, the Macleod Braves, 8 - 3 Saturday and 6 - 4 Sunday to win the total point series by a score of 14 to 7.

Rebels Defeat Colonels 8-4

BY DOUG BARNES

Saturday night in Wetaskiwin the Rebels won the first Provincial Hockey Title to come to Drayton Valley. They won the first game, of a two-game total point series last Thursday night at Drayton Valley 3 to 1. Taking a 2 goal lead to Wetaskiwin for Saturday night's game.

Rick LaPointe started the scoring for the Rebels Thursday night at 6:07 of the first period assisted by Lou Hendrickson. Then more than a period of hockey was played before brother Ray LaPointe scored at 7:17 of the second period, from Doug Hall.

Colonels only goal was scored at 13:27 of the third by Garry Soucy. Rick LaPointe finished off the scoring with his second goal at 15:30 assisted by Lou Hendrikson and Frank Roggeveen.

A good fast-skating hockey game with good goal-tending in both nets. Drayton Valley outshot Wetaskiwin 37 to 23. Nine penalties were handed out by Ernie Bourk and Dick Currey, six to the Rebels and three to the Colonels.

Saturday's game was another

Rec. Board to Meet Monday

The Drayton Valley Recreation Board will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, April 5, at 8:00 p.m. in the Recreation Office.

Among the items on the agenda will be the planning and formulating of policy governing the 1971 swimming program. Other phases of the approaching summer program will also be discussed.

Drayton Boys Win Golden Gloves

Four boxers from the Breton Boxing Club travelled to Calgary on the 22nd of March to compete in the Alberta Golden Gloves.

Bert Duperron represented the club in the 119 pound class. Ray Duperron completed in the 125 pound class, Walter Mastre in the 156 pound open class and Tom Turner in the 156 pound Novice class.

Bert and Ray met two different opponents each and won impressive victories both times to emerge as champions of their class.

Walter Mastre was matched against an older, more experienced opponent, but gave an honorable accounting of himself in losing a close decision to Kelly Eagles of Rocky Mountain House.

Tom Turner was impressive in his first two encounters, by stopping his first opponent in the second round and knocking his second opponent out in the first round. In the finals of the day Turner met strong opposition in Tom Nyeste of Peace River who was the winner of the bout.

Bert Duperron defeated Allan Webber of Vulcan and Bill Burle of Calgary Downtown Lions. Ray defeated Monte Witford of Glacier, Montana and Dale Mortimer of Calgary.

CHALLENGERS WIN 14-7 OVER FORT MACLEOD

Burrows Motors Challengers Bantam All-Stars put the finishing touches on a great season by defeating the Southern Champs, Fort McLeod 8-3 Saturday night and 6-4 Sunday afternoon to win the Alberta Bantam B Championship 14-7 on the round.

Before 500 fans Saturday night, the Challengers came out strong in the first with early goals by Tucker from Samis and by Hall unassisted. However, they let up in last half of the period and Fort McLeod came on with goals by Watnough from Kevin O'Sullivan and Chill and by Lourde from Nowiki to end the period 2-2.

Tucker got things going again early in the second when he tucked in Ron Reich's pass to go ahead 3-2. The local boys never looked back and they dug in and played the kind of hockey that got them into the championship game.

Jerry Hook scored on a determined effort to put the Challengers ahead 4-2. McLeod came back with a goal by Schmit only to have Featherstone come back

Winfield Man N.D.P.Candidate

Alvin Harmacy, a Winfield hardware man, was named N.D.P candidate for the Drayton Valley Constituency at the nominating meeting in Breton Monday evening. Mr. Harmacy won out in a close race with Constituency Association President Lars Larson of Alder Flats.

Mr. Harmacy is married with four children. He was born and raised in the Winfield area and has held a long-time interest in politics. He allowed his name to stand, he says, because he sees a need and will work for changes on the Alberta scene.

Rebels

real crowd pleaser. The Rebels had something like 200 fans at Wetaskiwin. What a tremendous showing by Drayton Valley supporters!

Saturday's scoring was started by the old smoothie Frank Roggeveen assisted by Jim Feeney at 3:50 of the first period. Ray LaPointe gave the Rebels a 4 goal series-lead at 8:03 assisted by Henry Hodgson and Frank Roggeveen. The Colonels cut the lead to 3 goals at 13:10 with a goal by Charles Soucy and the first period ended, Rebels 2 to 1. total points 5 to 2.

Sam Belcourt made the game score 3 to 1 at 1:09 of the second period assisted by Ray LaPointe. Then Wetaskiwin scored back to back goals at 4:52 and 12:31, both by Jerry Greene. Barry Pankewicz shut the door from here on in.

Sam Belcourt made the game score 4 to 3 for Drayton Valley at 19:26 unassisted.

Only one goal was scored in the third period that was by Jim Feeney assisted by Dan Davie. Last November Jim Feeney scored our first goal in league play and finished off the hockey season by scoring the last goal.

Rebels won the total point series 8 goals to 4 and the Provincial Intermediate C Championship Ten penalties were handed out by Referee's Jim McCallum and Ernie Bourk. Six to Wetaskiwin and four to the Rebels.

Its been a great season for the Rebels. It was accomplished by a lot of hard work by the players, getting in shape and showing up for every game they could possibly make. If you have seen them at practises you know what I mean about working and getting in shape.

Sam Belcourt moulded a hockey club that could skate for three periods and also the overtime. We didn't lose an overtime game this year which I think tells us something. Congratulations Sam for a job well done. This Championship couldn't happen to a bette bunch of guys.

Three of the Rebels have gone to Intermediate A Play-off Hockey with Lloydminister, Frank Roggeveen, Henry Hodgson and Dan Davie. Lloydminster is currently in a Western Canada hockey play-off series against Prince George, B. C.

Congratulations to the Burrows Motors Bantams.

The Rebels trailer, golf clubs and dishwasher Raffle is in progress and tickets are now available and can be obtained from players and directors. Only 500 tickets are sold so get yours early.

This is the last time you will see this poorly-written column until maybe next hockey season but it's been interesting and enjoyable. And thanks to Ron Smith and staff for trying to sort this out every week.

Nomination

Fifty or sixty persons were present for the meeting and heard an address by Provincial Leader Grant Notely who expressed optimism about the party's chances in the next provincial election. Failing a majority, he said, he looks for enough seats to make the N.D.P. the balance of power between Socreds and Conservatives in the next legislature.

Constituency Association election of officers followed the nomination of Mr. Harmacy, with the following elected: President, Lars Larson, Alder Flats; Vice-President, Lawson Patton, Buck Lake; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. I. Martin, Lindale; Directors, Herman Wolters, Rocky Rapids; Ted Barnett, Carnwood; Joe Laczo, Buck Lake; H. Hellervik, Buck Lake; Norman Dunn, Winfield; Dave Robinson, Alder Flats; Dennis Martin, Lindale; Rod Ollenberger, Winfield; and Ted Hobbs, Winfield.

Plan Baseball Meet at Seba

Parkland Regional Recreation Council has announced plans for a baseball meeting to be held at the Seba Beach High School at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, April 5th.

A discussion of last year's meeting is scheduled along with a number of important decisions, some of which include: age limits; categories; length of season; number of games; community contracts; and league rules.

All interested are asked to attend.

Challengers

to score on a pass from Bobby Hall and Dean Samis. At the end of the second it was 5-3 for Drayton.

In the 3rd period it was the Challengers all the way with goals by Featherstone from Selin and Hall, Hook unassisted and again by Featherstone from Kobernick and Galvon. Final score Drayton 8, McLeod 3. Three Stars were No. 1 Craig Featherstone, Drayton Valley, No. 2 Ken Fournier, Drayton Valley and No. 3 Darcey O'Sullivan, McLeod.

Before 700 fans on Sunday, which has to be the greatest crowd ever to watch a minor hockey game in Drayton Valley, the Challengers brought home the second Provincial title for Drayton Valley by beating McLeod 6-4. Rebels had won the Provincial Intermediate C Title the night before in Wetaskiwin.

McLeod played a much stronger game on Sunday and never quit skating despite being down 5 goals. However, the local boys were never really in trouble and the two teams traded goal for goal all through the game.

Penalties cost the Challengers a couple of goals but they always came back with another goal to keep one step ahead of the visitors.

Scoring for Drayton Valley were Reich, Tucker, Hook (2), Eustace and Selin. McLeod got goals from Darcey O'Sullivan, Kevin O'Sullivan and Kelly O'Sullivan (2). By the looks of that it pays to be Irish.

Sunday's three stars were (1) Ron Reich, (2) Kelly O'Sullivan (3) Jerry Hook.

What a way to end a season. Challengers have shown a lot of people what hard work and determination can do. They all deserved the tremendous ovation by the crowd at the end of game.

The trophy was presented to Captain Cameron Selin and the players all received individual medals. These things are hard to come by and I'm sure it will be a long time before these boys forget this one. Challengers record for year is - 32 games played won 21, lost 9, and tied 2.

W.I. Celebrates Anniversary

To celebrate its 40th Anniversary the Wabamun W.I. held a card party in the basement of the United Church. Both whist and cribbage were played. Mrs. Freida Woollard, a charter member was presented with a lovely corsage of carnations, then she had the honor of cutting the anniversary cake, which each and every one enjoyed very much.

The prize winners were: Whist - Ladies' 1st, Mrs. J. Stafford; 2nd, Mrs. W. Stckyk; and consolation, Mrs. Freida Woolard. Gent's 1st, Mrs. G. Hancock; 2nd, Mr. E. Harrison; and consolation, Mrs. J. Latchford. Cribbage: - 1st, Mrs. H. Miller and consolation, Mr. F. Anderson.

Winter Survival Cadet Exercise

Members of No. 733 Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets, of Drayton Valley, spent the weekend on a winter survival exercise at Bear Lake, about 22 miles north-west of Drayton Valley.

Supervision was provided by Corps Officers and members of the Parent Committee but the cadets were expected to use their own initiative and imagination in coping with overnight winter conditions.

The group left at 10:00 a.m. Saturday and returned home at 6:00 p.m. Sunday and attended a church parade on their return.

Instruction was kept to a minimum and included only: setting snares; ice fishing; shelter erection, with and without tents; and outdoor cookery.

The boys enjoyed the outing, including cooking fish taken through the ice, but added that it was a little cool in the tents overnight.

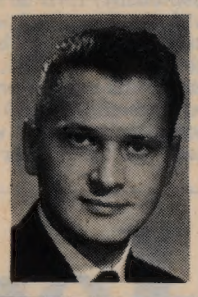
Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatychy, M.P.



Canadians generally believe that they live in a land of great geographic variety and splendour. Federal Governments by creating National Parks have been attempting to insure that outstanding examples of this natural environment are preserved forever.

Until recently, the vast majority of citizens paid little heed to the matter of preservation of natural areas, whether as National Parks or otherwise. With growing concern over the various threats to the environment this has changed. Many people are now voicing their interest in a clean environment and in the preservation of parkland.

The Government has recognized this concern and is providing an opportunity for individuals to take part in the orientation of National Parks for the future. This is being done through public hearings on the master plan for each park.

Hearings on the plans for Jasper Banff, Yoho and Kootenay Parks will be held in Calgary and Edmonton during the week of April 19th. Anyone interested in presenting written or oral presentations at these hearings may do so.

The hearings will not deal with the townsites of Banff or Jasper. This is a significant fact because it may indicate a willingness on the part of National Park planners to distinguish between parks and townsites. There has been a reluctance to do this in the past, resulting in consequences detrimental to those people who live in the townsites and to the parks themselves.

Park planners in Canada's parks have confused parks and townsites in the past. When public concern about parks began to increase, numerous steps were taken to restrict the development of existing townsites which are established to serve the needs of visitors. These steps were held up by the responsible officials as evidence of sound administration and proper preservation of wilderness.

At the same time unbelievable examples of pollution were allowed to continue in the parks. Raw sewage was being dumped into lakes and rivers; oil spills were being hidden. A deputy minister was announcing a program of road construction in National Parks to cost a total of 185 million dollars. Truly, in the words of folk singer Joni Mitchell, we were going to "pave paradise and put up a parking lot."

The new master plans reveal a greater awareness of the need to conserve vast areas of the parks or wilderness while at the same time allowing for the greatest possible use.

Anyone interested in making a presentation at the hearings in Calgary or Edmonton may get further information by writing to me at the House of Commons, Ottawa.

WEDDING REPORTS

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

Health Minister J. D. Henderson, in tabling the employment record of a Fort Chipewyan trapper, may have handed Opposition leader Peter Lougheed the key to an important election issue.

Since the last election in 1967, the Conservatives have searched high and low for the one big issue which would illustrate both government bungling and dramatize human rights.

They failed to put the Socreds on the run with the Bighorn Dam debate, the Alberta Resources Railway issue and even medicare; but 65-year-old Noel McKay of Fort Chip has given them an opportunity to flail away at the government with some telling blows.

Mr. Lougheed began the affair innocently enough when he presented a petition from Mr. McKay urging government help for Athabasca Delta residents who claim they have suffered from the effects of the Bennett Dam upstream.

Mr. Henderson replied, as expected, by saying Fort Chip residents have always been in difficult financial straits. He also tabled a sheet of paper showing Mr. McKay's employment and medical records for the past eight years in an attempt to prove Mr. Lougheed was misleading the Legislature into believing Mr. McKay was a trapper.

The Tory response was immediate and angry. Mr. Lougheed accused the health minister of impropriety in releasing confidential government files, and attempted to have the issue investigated by a House committee.

After five days of procedural wrangling, the Socreds agreed to hand both Mr. Lougheed's conduct in presenting the petition and Mr. Henderson's actions to the 25 member standing committee on privileges and elections chaired by Ralph Jespersen (SC-Stony Plain).

During the House uproar, the Socreds used their 55-10 majority to over-rule Speaker Art Dixon for the first time in his eight-year career. The Speaker had sided with the Tories on an important procedural decision, and the Socreds were accused of "bludgeoning" the Legislature to get their way in the debate.

Mr. Speaker eventually asked for -- and got -- a unanimous House motion of confidence. Then, he proceeded to rule the entire McKay debate out of order prompting Mr. Lougheed to tell the Legislature he no longer has confidence in Speaker Dixon's impartiality.

"We're not going to let the matter drop," Mr. Lougheed says "It is as fundamental an issue as I have seen in the last four years.

The issue, as the Tories see it, is whether the government is beyond reproach in its handling of confidential files touching the lives of 1.6 million Albertans -- school, medical, driving and court records.

Premier Harry Strom's defence is that the government normally doesn't disclose individual records but regards the McKay case as a "rare and exceptional one."

With stormy committee hearings expected to start this week, the Tories can say they're ahead on points in the first real debate of the session.

Editorial Comment

Congratulations, Champs!

Our congratulations to Drayton Valley athletes, who have brought a number of championships to the community during the past month.

Two provincial hockey championships, a provincial bowling titlist, two Golden Gloves winners and a North-Central Gymnastics Championship -- all during the month of March -- is a commendable record for a small community.

It seems obvious that championship material abounds in the town and area just waiting to burst into bloom. We look for the day, in the not too distant future, when athletes from the area will gain national recognition.

In the meantime, a provincial title is a very worthwhile achievement, and again we extend congratulations, on behalf of the community, to those who contributed to the success of Drayton Valley in sports competitions.

The Dominion Census

EVERY PERSON residing in Canada who was born before midnight on Monday, May 31, 1971, will be counted in the Census on Tuesday, June 1st. This roll-call is in effect a stop-action snapshot of Canadians at a moment in time.

The British North America Act of 1867, under which the provinces became a nation, provided for a census in 1871 and every tenth year thereafter.

Only 41 words were used to enact this law: "In the General Census of the population of Canada, which is hereby required to be taken in the year one thousand, eight hundred and seventy-one and in every tenth year thereafter, the respective populations of the four provinces shall be distinguished."

This sentence recognized the autonomy of the provinces then existing, by providing that each one should have its people enumerated as citizens of that province.

After a hundred years the need for information about ourselves is greater than ever. Society is becoming ever more complex. Governments at all levels — federal, provincial, and municipal — need more, and more varied, information in greater detail upon which to base their planning. Business firms, school authorities, welfare associations, churches, city planners, economists, and scores of others, require data to help them to make wise decisions.

How else than by a count of people by marital status and age could any public body estimate the costs of social security measures such as family allowances and old age pensions? How else than by a survey of housing conditions could a municipality appraise the need for construction of houses? How else than by a tabulation of the levels of living across the country could a government judge the need and effect of legislation dealing with economic and social matters?

Some people will say: "But governments on all levels are constantly keeping tab on us, and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics issues reports on one or another feature of business and life every week. Why do they need this wholesale effort?"

The fact that distinguishes a census from partial surveys is that it presents a picture of all our people and all our country at a specific point in time. This provides a firm base for computations, a sort of bench-mark, like those left on a line of survey by surveyors for reference at some future time.

Estimates of population made between censuses are faulty in that, while they provide a simple paper computation of the number of people living in Canada, they give no information about whether those people are better off, worse off, or about the same as they were ten years previously. Executives in business firms do not rely upon the addition of sums in their books, but take inventory of their stock on hand at regular intervals.

Translated into national terms, this census stock-taking is a big operation. It requires about 50,000 workers, specially-made electronic equipment to process millions of questionnaires, and computers to organize and compile and store the information. The cost will be more than $35 million.

LINDALE NEWS

Congratulations to Joyce and Ed Nixon, on the birth of a daughter, on Saturday, March 20th, in an Edmonton Hospital. The baby weighed in at nine pounds, two onces. This is the twenty third grandchild for Mrs. Annie Sweet.

Mrs. Frank Belanger Sr. is home from hospital. Mrs. Bernice Horsman and Mrs. Rita Wild of Rocky Mountain House, visited her recently.

The students of Lindale School were given instructions in tumbling on Tuesday and Wednesday, under the leadership of Constable Fetterly of the Breton R.C.M.P. Detachment. It is hoped this will be a weekly happening since winter is still with us, and outside recreation at a minimum.

With temperatures slipping to around 20° below zero again, it doesn't feel like spring, but a few signs have been noted, so it can't be too far away. Crows have been seen, and a few brave starlings are back.

Get well wishes to out to Mrs. Huculak, who was unable to teach last week. Mrs. Barnett has been filling in for her. The flu bug has been very active this winter and is still going strong.

BULL SALES

For many purebred beef breeders in this district "Bull Sale Time" is the culmination of a year's work and planning. For the potential buyers it is an excellent opportunity to compare and pick from a wide selection of practical herd sires with the opinion of a qualified judge to support or refute their choice. Bulls coming in without excess fitting have found the most favour with judges and buyers the last few years, and rightfully so. If the show ring is to be a reflection and a showcase for the industry, it must be relevant to the product in demand.

Buyers will have the opportunity to pick a performance tested bull from the 197 on test at the Alberta Beef Cattle Test Station at Ellerslie. These bulls entered the test station on November 5 and began a 28 day adjustment period. They were officially weighed on December 2nd and each 28 days thereafter. Final weights will be taken on April 21 with a Field Day on April 28. A sale of approximately 80 of the top performing bulls will be held the following day, April 29 at the Leduc Acution Market.

VIRUS TAKING TOLL

There are disturbing indications that a virus infection called I.B.R. or rednose is taking a toll of calf crops in this area.

According to Dr. Klavano, microbiologist at the Edmonton laboratory, I.B.R. has six different forms:

(1) The respiratory form, which occurs mainly in feedlot animals.

(2) The eye form, which occurs mainly in young calves and feedlot animals.

(3) The brain form, which occurs mainly in feedlot cattle.

(4) The genital form, which occurs during the breeding season and mainly affects animals of reproductive age.

(5) The abortion form, which affects pregnant cows and heifers.

(6) The intestinal form, which occurs mainly in young calves from a few days to a month old.

I.B.R. can occur in both beef and dairy cattle, but abortions appear in more epidemic proportions in beef cattle, because of the type of breeding program used. The incidence of abortions in a beef herd can vary from 3 to 4 percent to as high as 60 or 70 percent. Cows with I.B.R. may abort at any time during pregnancy, and the abortion can occur anywhere from three weeks to two months after the animal has contacted the virus.

Dr. Klavano recommends the following control measures for I.B.R.:

(1) Vaccinate all cows and heifers three weeks before the breeding season starts. The vaccine should prevent abortions; and if the cows have a high immunity, they will pass it on to their calves in the "first" milk. The transferred immunity should decrease the incidence of intestinal I.B.R. in small calves. Do not vaccinate pregnant cows or heifers. Consult your veterinarian about a vaccination program.

(2) Keep your breeding herd "closed" and "isolated" if for some reason you do not vaccinate. In other words, do not add any replacements to the herd between the time the cows are bred and the calving season. If you buy feeders, keep them well away from the breeding herd.

These two precautions, says Dr. Klavano, will not guarantee freedom from I.B.R., but will reduce the possibilities of it gaining entry to the herd.

Community Band Presents Concert for Parents Thursday

A brief demonstration concert by the Community Band was given for parents and relatives at the Legion Hall last Thursday. The performance was enthusiastically received. It was most encouraging to see the progress made over the past 4 or 5 months of practising.

The program began with the familiar Junior Jump (to the tune of "When the Saints Go Marching In"), then followed the introduction of individual band members by Mr. Joe Gudz. Most members played a short solo tune to give the audience an idea what various instruments sound like. It was mentioned that the rapid progress of the beginners was largely due to the instruction given by such experienced bandsmen as Mr. Dan Baines and Mr. Denis Reid.

Some of the selections played, such as "Vanguard" and "Promotion March" lacked the bounce, crispness and distinct beat characteristic of military marches. However, it must be remembered that the band is still in its infant stages and has a lot to learn. If the band keeps up its present pace - a good concert can be expected by the public a year from now.

During the course of the program Mr. Dan Baines mentioned the basic requirement of all bandsmen - practise at least ½ hour every day. When the band began last fall - applicants were hard to find, but now a waiting list is forming.

A pre-band rehearsal takes place at 6:30 p.m., Mondays in the Town Administrative Offices, beginners are required to attend these. The full band rehearses at 7:30 for approximately one hour. Extra sectional practises at 4:00 on Tuesdays and Wednesdays are in room four of the High School. The woodwinds come Tuesday; the basses Wednesday.

Since the band was formed last October five high quality instruments have been purchased at discount prices through the band. The most recent additions have been a Yamaha comet and clarinet. The bass drum ordered about 3 weeks ago is expected any week now, it is an indirect former gift from the Rotary Club.

At present the band has 15 playing members, three additional beginners are in the process of learning to master their instruments. The progress and interest in the program are remarkable. The members would like to thank the town coucil for their financial assistance and the members of the Royal Canadian Legion for the use of their hall.

Long Time Resident Passes in Edmonton

Funeral services were held in the Tomahawk Community Hall on Tuesday, March 30th for Mr. John Howard Kelly who passed away Saturday, March 27th in an Edmonton Hospital.

Mr. Kelly, who would have been 80 years of age on April 6th, was a patient in the Drayton Valley Hospital for several weeks before being moved to the University Hospital where he was confined at the time of his death.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Donald Snell and interment took place in the family plot in the Tomahawk Cemetery.

Mr. Kelly was born in 1891 at St. Stephens, New Brunswick and as a young man made a harvest excursion to Saskatchewan and after another year in the east decided to come west to live.

His father was a Tomahawk pioneer and Mr. Kelly also took out a homestead north of the community about 50 years ago. For the past 18 years he had been living at Round Valley.

He was predeceased by his father and a brother, Harry.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Francis (Barbara Jean) Law who passed away in an Edmonton hospital on Sunday morning.

Best wishes for future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. John Wieting, nee Miss Sharon Cane, who were married in Emmaus Lutheran Church on March 20th with Pastor Mohr officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Wieting will make their home in Drayton Valley.

Sergeant Elmer Reynolds, of Comox, B. C. was here last week end to visit his mother, Mrs. Mary Reynolds. Sergeant Reynolds finished a tour of duty in Germany last fall and now has twenty-three years of service to his credit.

Mr. Lloyd Matlock will be attending welding school in Edmonton for the next eight weeks.

Mrs. Fred Wilson has loaned me the Violet Grove School Board Minute book. It make most interesting reading. It was begun on January 19th, 1935 when the district was first formed and before the school was built. Mr. M. O. Burnett was chairman and Mr. C. A. Beller acted as secretary treasurer. Once a year the books were audited by Mr. Eric Turner. We note that Mr. James Taylor moved that the auditor be paid the sum of $2.50 for his services. Mr. Rasmusson received the sum of $5.00 for building the chimney. When the school passed into the Stony Plain School Division interest waned until the annual meeting of 1943 is reported by Mr. Len Martin, secretary at the time, in these words "No meeting - no ratepayers - no trustees" Thank you, Mrs. Wilson for giving me the opportunity to read this book.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hill, now of Swan Hills were in town at the beginning of this week.

Mrs. Walter Durham is leaving this weekend by air for a month long stay with relatives in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roper, of Victoria, are here for the funeral services of Mrs. Law, Mrs. Roper's sister-in-law.

Mrs. Vernon Beckett is waiting for a bed in an Edmonton hospital. She will have surgery to correct a painful condition of her spine.

The McKinleys who own the Y O Bar Ranch near Lodgepole, formerly known as the Glen Ranch have a great love of animals. Unwanted or uncared for waifs frequently find a home at the Y O Bar. At present their menage consists of four dogs, two cats, two geese, nine, yes nine, saddle horses and the nucleus of a herd of good cattle. On a recent trip Mac saw a mule that he felt needed a better home and, you guessed it, it is now a permanent star boarder at the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Durham and Charlotte are very much looking forward to a two week holiday on Vancouver Island at Easter.

"You shouldn't take a little kid like me so seriously!"

Drama Workshop Held at Weekend

Mr. George Botchett, a graduate of the University of Manitoba and the Banff School of Fine Arts, instructed at a drama workshop held March 27th at Drayton Valley. Mr. Botchett is a teacher of drama for the E.P.S.B. and is currently involved in the production of a musical. He has directed plays by such noted playwrights as Moliere, Shakespeare, Aristophanes, and John Van Druten. He has acted in productions in Banff, Winnipeg, and Edmonton.

The drama workshop of this past weedend was under the auspices of the Drayton Valley Junior High School drama class and was held at the St. Anthony's School with an attendance of some thirty Jr. High actors and actresses.

At the conclusion of the clinic Mr. Botchett spent an extra hour previewing and critizising the two Jr. High productions of this coming spring -- "The World Tipped Over and Is Laying on its Side" by Mary Weber and "Spartan" by Conkling. This proved to be a very beneficial experience for these two casts.

He felt that among the cast members that Jack Hart showed good promise.

The Junior High School grade nine drama class will be hosting a Junior High Drama Festival on Saturday, April 24th along with Mrs. Lil Ross's, St. Anthony's drama group. Invited and having accepted invitations to participate are Stony Plain, Sangudo, and Barrhead. Mr. Ken Graham of the Provincial Government Cultural Branch has been contracted as adjudicator.

The following week the two plays of the Junior High School will be presented in further competition in Sangudo in the annual High School Zone II elimination competitions.

It can be planned as a whole day session or held three evenings at two hours per week. Any community who are interested in this course, please contact the Parkland Regional Recreation Office at 777-2211.

SUB-MITS FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Very regularly teachers are told that the schools no longer teach phonics or sounds. Let me try to change that image. Phonics or sounds are indeed taught. They are taught in an organized method in reading, spelling and language. And they are taught during the other subjects when the opportunity arises. They may not be taught the way you learned them when you went to school, but they are taught very consistently in the elementary grades.

If you ask a child to figure out a word and he can do it or almost do it, then, he is learning his phonics. However, please remember that the children in grade one naturally do not know as many phonetic principles as children in other grades.

Just as an example of what is actually covered consider this list of grade one work study skills.

1. Children are taught to listen for different sounds such as "Name other words that begin like mother, moon, monkey." After they begin hearing the sounds they begin learning the following principles.
2. Children learn the sounds of the letters b, c, d, f, g, h, j, l, m, n, p, r, s, t, and w, when they occur at the beginning of a word.
3. Children learn endings that rhyme and how to make new words by substituting the first letter -- cat --bat -- hat- sat.
4. Children learn to recognize compound words (into, snowman, postman).
5. Children learn root words and different endings, (look, looks, looking).

We invite you to look at your child's work closely. If you're not sure where the phonetic principles are being taught, your child's teacher will be happy to explain.

EVANSBURG NEWS

It is nice to be back home after an almost two week stay in an Edmonton Hospital. The weather seems very reluctant to change to the usual spring like days we should be having and many farmers are eyeing their feed supplies rather anxiously with this prolonged winter.

Many meetings have taken place which I have missed during may stay away in the city but some younger folk who have been rewarded for their hard work are the following music students of Mrs. Elizabeth Tkachyk. These students of piano and theory presented the annual student recital at Mrs. Tkachyk's home on Friday, March 5th. Piano works ranging from the Bach period to those of contemporary American and Russian composers were performed by the young musicians. Parents and friends provided a most appreciative audience and a total of thirty five persons were in attendance. Following the recital, refreshments were served. The following students participated in the programme.

Grade I - Stephan Tkachyk, Marc Dompnier, Sigrin Herchen.
Grade II - Gale Willaims, Gisel Marcotte, Wendy Davey, Linda Keast.
Grade III - Ruth Tkachyk.
Grade IV - Sandra Rimmer, Connie Rimmer, Harald Herchen, Verna Nkiolyuk.
Grade VI - Kathy Kalinowski
Grade VII - Mary Tkachyk

Several 4-H members and leaders attended a public speaking workshop at Duffield School recently. This workshop was sponsored by the 4-H branch of the Department of Youth and Mr. Arnold Malone was the instructor. It is to be hoped that the members came away with new views on the art of public speaking

The 16A Tractor Club held its regular meeting at the Bruner home. As this is getting near the end of the club year, the members are putting more emphasis on project work for the few remaining meetings they will have.

Pembina District Council of Boy Scouts held its regular meeting at the Evansview School on March 25th. Plans for the Scout Camporee were finalized and any changes which will take place at the Cubaree were noted. Final plans for the Cubaree will be made at the April meeting. The Scout Camporee will take place at the end of May and the Cubaree will take place at the beginning of June.

And now I would like to take this opportunity of saying thank you to all the people who have helped with reporting for this news column. I feel I can no longer report the news adequately due to circumstances and I would like everyone to give all the news items they may have to Mrs. Stella Lorenz who will be your reporter in the future. Thank you.

Athletic Assn. Meets Thursday

The Drayton Valley Athletic Association will meet on Thursday, April 1st at 7:00 p.m. in the Recreation Office. The main topic on the agenda will be the 1971 Minor Baseball program.

A couple of organizational meetings have already been held in preparation for the coming baseball season. Early interest indicates that we can look forward to one of the best baseball seasons in a decade.

The Association needs plenty of support in order to reach this objective. We could be looking at ten or twelve teams at the different levels covering age groups from seven to seventeen years.

A good number of persons have indicated an interest in the coming baseball program, however, we will need many more hands to make the whole thing a success.

If you are interested in the 1971 Minor Baseball program and want to get involved plan to attend Thursday's meeting. The Athletic Association needs your help.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,
The Western Review,
Dear Sir:

In these days when it is all too common to hear the "older" generation complain and gripe about teenagers and their outrageous habits and behaviour it is indeed a pleasure to be able to commend them on these facts. I recently had the pleasure of chaperoning the Teen Club at the Legion Hall and I can state with no reservations that they were polite. Well-behaved and well mannered. There were no incidents of rowdyism, bad language or ill manners to be seen anywhere in this gathering and it was a pleasure to be able to assist them by chaperoning their dance.

There was, to be sure a large amount of the long-haired people we assume to be a rowdy element but there was certainly no evidence to support this assumption and quite frankly no adequate reasoning to base the assumption on in the first place.

Teeagers are people, budding adults, and the more we respect them, the more they will respect us.

So I say again thanks for allowing me to be a part of your dance and please feel free to call on me any time my assistance is required.

Bruce Cable,
President, Canadian Legion.

PRESCHOOL CRAFTS

Children seem to be filled with the desire for something to do. That something to do can involve getting into the oddest places and doing the oddest things, so let's channel this creativity into some type of preschool craft. Crafts should not be aimed just to the child who appears to have artistic talent - they should involve all children. A most important function of all parents is to develop the child, not to develop a talent so the process involved in doing a craft is most important, not the end product.

The freedom to develop emotionally in artistic creativity is the due of all children. Anything creative and imaginative that a child can be encouraged to do will help him discover values of all kinds. One can as a parent gain insight into the child and his feelings about things from what he does in his pictures and from his general attitude to his are work. The best thing to do as a parent is to gratify the wee artist for his work and encourage the child to discuss with you what he has shown in the painting or drawing.

A child's art needs will change. It may mean perhaps different sizes or types of paper and brushes. From the moment a child can grasp a pencil or brush and make a mark with it he will be happy and proud. As the very young child learns to use those previously unused hand and arm muscles he will discover that when he applies pressure and moves the pencil or brush that different kinds of marks appear. A new world opens for him.

What kind of crafts can a preschooler do? At several Mothers-Day-Out sessions we have discussed many ideas for crafts so I'll pass these on to you:

For the scribbler - (big soft wax type).

Large wax crayons, big brushes and felt-tipped pens on newspaper, opened paper bags work well for scribbling.

For the painter - A few colors are all that needed; the powdered poster paints work well. Several brushes for each pot can be used or a muffin tin is excellent for mixing.

The paper can be anything eg. newspaper, wrapping paper, paper bags. The floor can be protected with a plastic fabric (shower curtain), the artist with a smock.

Children love to experiment and find out about the world. Let's give them the opportunity.

More ideas in next weeks colum column.

Reeve Les Miller Reports To Parkland Ratepayers

The following report by Parkland County Reeve Les Miller was presented to the annual ratepayers meeting in the Spruce Grove School on Saturday, March 20th.

It is a privilege for me to bring to the ratepayers a brief report of the activities, and policies of your county, in its second year of operation. The problems are being overcome, and I feel we are functioning much more smoothly, and efficiently. I am pleased and thankful, to be able to report that in spite of the disasterous winter, and the changing education structure, we were able to operate within our budget and come out with a healthy surplus, in spite of having again reduced the mill rate.

I would like to express publicly my sincere thanks to my fellow councillors, in giving me the honor of serving as reeve, and for their help and co-operation. Each one has been most helpful in taking charge of and responsibility for various committees, special projects, etc., and have been a real fine team. I feel it is a district honor, to have a part in managing the affairs of this rapidly growing county. We certainly have more action and growth than any other area of the province. Each day brings something new, and it is a real thrill to be part of it.

I want to thank also our employees for their co-operation to myself and council, and their dedication to their work. I think in total we have a wonderful group of employees who are a credit to the county. Words cannot express my feelings when I see patrol operators going out nights, and even Christmas Day, before they are asked, to open roads and provide service to you, the ratepayers. Our other employees are equally dedicated. I would like to assure them that their work is appreciated by council, and I am sure by the ratepayers. Also a word of thanks to our volunteer fire departments, who are so efficient and effective and yet receive so little recognition for their work.

You will find many changes in this years financial statement and also in the reeves report. In an effort to provide more and complete information, we have asked each department head to prepare a report of the affairs of that department, rather than include it in the reeves report. This I hope will give you a clearer picture of what is happening in the county. Also we have enclosed a simplified financial statement, as requested at last years annual meeting. This we hope will be a more meaningful and useful statement, and will be the one used in the future, if accepted. We will be asking your opinions on these changes at the annual meeting and any other improvements you may suggest as well.

I think you will find the assessors and the development officers reports very revealing. The percentage of industrial and commercial assessment, was a shock even to me. Your councils policy of encouraging development and industry is proving effective. It is our hope, that we can keep our assessment increasing enough to offset increasing costs, and thus be able to maintain our present mill rate. We are encouraging industry, and in return are trying to provide service to industry. In these two short years the "County of Parkland" has become well known, not only in this province, but right across the business segment of North America.

With this type of industrial tax bases and with the costs required to serve this industry, I think you as ratepayers must become very concerned about the agitation of some politicians to promote a pooling of industrial taxation. A resolution was even passed at the Urban Association Convention asking the same thing. It is the same thing as a lazy man going on welfare, and asking to live from the efforts of his neighbors, rather than going out to work and improve his own lot. It is a virtually unworkable idea, is politically expedient, and sounds great, to the uninformed. It would simply stop the incentive and initiative to encourage growth and development. The majority of this years development was development we went after, promoted and encouraged to establish in our area, and didn't just happen because we were lucky, or happened to be here. Industry is very desirable, but it also requires considerable additional service. This service in turn benefits the ratepayers in general. An example, the road being built to serve Calgary Power, is also a real benefit to the people in that area.

It is with some of these thoughts in mind that we propose, in conjunction with the Town of Stony Plain and Spruce Grove to run a water line from the City of Edmonton to Stony Plain. Since it is designed to be a self liquidating project, to be paid for by the water users, and since it will aid in commercial growth we feel justified in supporting it. The Department of Public Works will build the line and turn it over as a finished product. The debentures are issued after the line is completed, so the first payment is not made until the line has been in use a full year. Also in similar line there is work being done to locate an airport near Drayton Valley to serve that area. Plans are not yet complete, but there is a good chance of it becoming a reality.

In public works it is the feeling of council, that we should place our emphasis on maintenance, upgrading, and oiling of our present public roads and rebuild only where roads are unsuitable or non-existent, or where a special situation arises. Here again we welcome and solicit your opinions. It is the wish of council that we receive opinions, ideas and even criticisms from the ratepayers. I can assure you that any person wishing to see myself or council, to offer ideas, or discuss a problem, will be received courteously will be heard, and will have their opinions considered. It is the policy of your council that to the best of our ability, every person and every area in the county, will be given equal concern, consideration and opportunity. The actual work done, and amounts expended, in public works, is covered in the public works report, elsewhere in this statement.

We also had quite a busy year in capital building construction. A new school was completed at Spruce Gove to handle some of the population explosion in that area. We also have approvals for a new junior high school in Stony Plain, and a senior high school in Drayton Valley. We also constructed a county office and shop building in Drayton Valley. The building will house our public works people, and some of their equipment. It will provide offices for the county police, and an area for the Edson Health Unit. It will also provide an operation point for our agriculture fieldman assessors, development people, etc. to work from.

The year 1970 was not the brightest for agriculture. Costs continued to rise, while prices of products held the same, or dropped to extremely low levels, in the case of hogs and poultry products. We again had considerable hail damage in some areas, but crop conditions in the rest of the county were improved over 1969. Hopefully, the snow which has been such a problem this winter will restore some much needed sub-soil moisture to our land, and also replenish our lakes, where water levels have been dropping at an alarming rate.

It is the feeling of your council that agriculture is still our basic industry. To help formulate policies in this area we appointed an Agriculture Advisor Committee. This committee has a cross section representation of men and women from the entire county. We were also able to encourage a veterinarian to locate in Drayton Valley by providing an establishment grant. This action appears to be working out well, from first reports, and should be a real benefit to the farmers in that area

We again lost a little land through annexation. The village of Spruce Grove annexed 6 quarter sections effective January 1, 1971. We also agreed at committee level to allow the City of Edmonton to annex some land on our eastern limits. We hope this will soon be finalized, and after that we trust our boundaries will remain stable for a considerable period of time.

Another service we felt was badly needed in the county was ambulance service. We, after much study of various methods, advertised for persons to run a subsidized ambulance service for the Stony Plain Hospital area, and the Drayton Valley Hospital area. We are now finalizing plan for the services in the Drayton Valley Hospital area, but at Stony Plain we had no bids. This will provide a much needed service at reasonable cost to the western area of the county, the town of Drayton Valley and the west end of the Leduc County.

There are many more areas I would like to discuss, but space does not permit. I feel the ratepayers in general are not knowledgeable enough of what is going on in the county, the policies of council, the problems of council, etc. I would appreciate suggestions as to ways of improving this situation. So as a start I would encourage the ratepayers to attend the annual meeting, criticize where you feel it is needed, ask questions of things you are in doubt of, or concerned about, and thus help us to do a better job of serving you.

Respectfully submitted,
Les Miller.

The Basic Herd and New Tax Legislation

Alberta farmers who had well-established dairy or beef herds in 1947 would be wise to investigate immediately their chances of being able to form a basic herd, says Bill Bayda of the provincial department of agriculture.

He feels that there is a very good possibility that the basic herd will no longer be approved for income tax purposes when the federal government brings in its taxation reforms later this spring. However, the White Paper on Taxation said that a basic herd that was already established when the new taxation system came into force would be exempt from tax. This means that when a farm herd is sold, that part of it which has been established as a basic herd will be treated as tax free inventory and will be deducted from the total value of the entire herd. The money received for the other animals in the herd will be treated as income and taxed accordingly.

Farmers who would gain most from a basic herd, says Mr. Bayda are those who had a good-sized herd before 1947. A fairly large number of animals in herds that were started before this date have, in the past, been accepted for a basic herd without the owners having to pay any income tax. Tax did not have to be paid in these cases because the farmers were not earning enough in those years to be taxable. Mr. Bayda stresses that there is no hard and fast rule regarding the acceptance of a herd as a basic herd. The decision depends to a great extent upon the case that the farmer is able to present to his local tax official.

After 1947 the fair market value of each animal that was put into the basic herd had to be added to the farmers income in the year rather than in 20 to 30 years time when the herd was sold. This tax is not due until the herd is sold. With today's high interest rates it is doubtful whether paying this tax in advance is a wise move. If it were invested in the farm or some other type of security, it would be earning money until the herd was sold.

There may be farmers who have paid income tax on animals as they added them to their herds, but who have not actually had a basic herd approved. They should contact their local taxation official immediately, and have these animals recorded as a basic herd. Also, farmers who have established a basic herd in the past should check with their district tax official to make sure that the number of animals he has recorded for the basic herd agrees with the number actually in the herd.

Following is an excerpt from the February issue of the "Ontario Milk Producer" giving that organization's view on forming a basic herd at this time, and some suggestions on how to go about it.

"If you have not yet established a basic herd, you should do it immediately. The time is fast approaching when your right to establish a basic herd will be lost.

The problem most farms face when applying for a basic herd is to prove that they had "X" number of animals on hand at the time they started in business, or on January 1, 1947, if they were farming on that date. Some of the sources where this information may be obtained include purchase agreements, mortgages and chattel mortgages, wills and gifts, bank loan forms and National Livestock Records or Breeders Associations.

If it is not possible to establish accurate numbers of animals from the previous sources, the following information might help.

1. A letter from the Vet who looked after your animals during your first year of business.
2. The size of your farm and the stabling capacity of your barn.
3. A letter affidavit from a neighbor who was familiar with your operations.
4. If in the year you started farming you had a loss due in part to the purchase of animals and this loss was not absorbed by the other income of the year or by profits in subsequent years, you might be able to have this non-assessable loss year adjusted by deleting the expense of the purchased animals. They would then qualify as basic herd animals.

When you have obtained as much information as possible, you should prepare a short summary of your farming operations, complete the basic herd application form, go to your District Taxation Office and discuss your case with an official there.

Wabamun W.I. Meets

The March meeting of the Wabamun W.I. was held in the basement of the United Church with Mrs. G. Fuhr as the hostess. A short meeting was held to make plans for a whist and cribbage party to be held in the church basement on March 23rd.

Donations were given to the Wabamun Arena Fund and also to the Cubs. Plans also were made to cater to the Calgary Power on one of their award nights, which will be March 31st.

Arrangements were made to attend a W.I. meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Schafer on May 6th when Mrs. Dalheim will be their guest.

The roll call was an educational gift for the Winnifred Stewart School in Edmonton. The meeting closed and then Mrs. G.
